VILLA AND ZAPATA IN AGREEMENT

News Is Said to be Pleasing to Carranza's Vera Cruz Supporters

LATTER'S FORCES IN POSSESSION OF MEXICO CITY

VILLA IS APPROACHING

And Washington Officials Believe Order Will Soon Be Restored There—American Soldiers Expected to Arrive in United States Before Night.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Vera Cruz, Nov. 26.—The occupation of Mexico City by the forces of General Zapata and the apparent understanding that has been reached between this southern leader and General Villa, appear to be pleasing rather than otherwise to General Carranza's supporters here who, it is supposed, reflect Carranza's opinion in this respect.

In general the plan now will be to besiege Zapata and Villa, cutting every railroad, and starving them into surrender if possible, but forcing their capitulation at that point in any way which may become necessary. As the Federalists, Carranza's minister of foreign affairs, who has located his office here, expressed the conviction last night that the task of subduing Zapata and Villa would not be nearly so difficult as appeared. He admitted that the consequences for Mexico City would be bad. He also admitted that already there had been a number of news that followers of Zapata had seized certain parts of the capital, although there were no reports to indicate the extent to which this had been carried out, but he regarded this as one of the possible consequences incident to war.

Just who is in control of Mexico City is not known here. It is reported that neither General Zapata nor General Villa actually is in the city but that they have sent forward one whom they have agreed as their representative. Nor is it known just where General Villa is but it is thought that perhaps he has headquarters at Queretaro, although he may be further south. Generals Obregon and Blanco are occupying strategic positions east of Mexico City. It is no secret that General Villa controls the railway line southward from Juarez clear to Mexico City, said Senor Fabella, and that General Zapata holds that small district in the state of Morelos immediately south of Mexico City. The foreign minister however, called attention to the positions of General Carranza's men in almost all the other parts of the republic and to their superiority in numbers.

"Beginning east of General Villa's territory the Carranza supporters claim the states of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas and down the gulf coast of the state of Vera Cruz. General Carranza's power, continued Senor Fabella, extends down the coast across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec and northward from the isthmus through the states of Jalisco and Michoacan.

General Dieguez, a Carranza general in Jalisco, has reported that he successfully withstood a heavy attack by General Felipe Angeles. In the states of Puebla and Tlaxcala, the Carranza troops have regained unquestioned control, according to Senor Fabella. General Carranza will direct from Vera Cruz the campaign for the recovery of the national capital. It is expected that he will arrive before the end of the week, probably on Friday.

A triumphal arch has been erected in the center of Vera Cruz and General Candido Aguilar is preparing to make his entry long remembered for the display of enthusiasm.

Order continues to prevail. Work in the various government offices is being resumed slowly.

TROOPS TAKE DINNER ON BOARD SHIP TODAY.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Galveston, Texas, Nov. 26.—Wireless messages from Major General Frederick Funston on board the transport Christobel, indicated that the first ship of the five bearing the fifth brigade back to American soil from Vera Cruz, Mex., will arrive in Galveston shortly after noon today. All are expected to dock by night-fall.

A downpour during the last two days has prevented completion of the campaign for Crockett, and the quartermaster's department announced that the troops probably will not disembark Friday or Saturday. The total number of troops leaving Vera Cruz upon this expedition, by American troops, is 1,112, as indicated by reports from General Funston received here. The transports Christobel and Maryland, and the oiler Ward have departed leaving on board more than 1,000 soldiers are making faster than the remaining transports.

COUNCIL DEPOSES PREACHER

Rev. H. L. Chapin of Fredericktown Is Found Guilty Of Charges

OF CONDUCT SCANDALIZING HIS PROFESSION.

VERDICT IS UNANIMOUS

And His Church Will Be Told to Sever Pastoral Relations—Domestic Unhappiness of Months Ago Is Recalled By Mt. Vernon Trial.

Following a stormy conference of the pastors of the Mt. Vernon Baptist Association, the conference reached the unanimous decision that Rev. H. L. Chapin, Fredericktown Baptist minister, is disqualified to serve as a pastor in the church and the recommendation was made that the pastoral relations be severed.

Rev. Mr. Chapin was prominent in the public prints last winter following the sensational disclosure of his wife's intimacy with a member of the church. Divorce proceedings resulted and the public was later withdrawn after Mrs. Chapin had walked from Mt. Vernon to Fredericktown, a distance of seven miles, with the thermometer registering a temperature below zero. She was attired in her night gown, a kimono, and was barefoot.

At the hearing before the moderator at Mt. Vernon, Monday, Rev. Mr. Chapin and his friends refused to abide by the rules of the association governing such hearings, and they left the room after a stormy scene. The finding of the conference was as follows:

"On motion of one of the pastors of the Mt. Vernon association the motion was carried by a unanimous vote that the association called a conference of the pastors and officers of the association, together with a neighboring pastor and the secretary of the Ohio Baptist convention, for the purpose of investigating certain matters pertaining to the ministerial character and standing of the Rev. H. L. Chapin of the Fredericktown Baptist church.

"This conference convened in Mt. Vernon on Nov. 24, 1914. Two sessions were held, morning and afternoon.

"The meeting of the conference was for the purpose of securing information bearing on the ministerial character and conduct of the Rev. H. L. Chapin. The findings were as follows:

"First—That Rev. H. L. Chapin is guilty of conduct that has scandalized the cause of our Lord Jesus Christ and brought reproach upon the Gospel ministry and the Christian cause wherever this scandal is known, to-wit:

"(1) Because of domestic irregularities culminating in proceedings for divorce.

"(2) By being to a large extent responsible for the publicity in connection with the scandal that has recently come to his own household and church.

"Second—His refusal to publicly retract the accusation of adultery made against his wife in a petition for divorce which he made to the court and which was published in the press of Fredericktown and Mt. Vernon, an accusation which he afterward admitted he believed to be untrue in the presence of his own deacons and three reputable ministers of the Gospel.

"Third—His un-Christian and unministerial conduct in the hearing of the conference of the afternoon session, to which he had been invited.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Savannah, Ga., Nov. 26.—Gray Sloop of Mooresville, N. C., one of the competitors in the 300-mile road race here today was killed when his motorcycle crashed into a tree. Sloop's neck and back were broken. Sloop was well known in Ohio, having rode in races at Newark, and other points in that state.

FASTEST DRIVERS ARE GIVEN FLYING START.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Corona, Calif., Nov. 26.—Twenty cars lined up for the start of the Corona automobile race, scheduled for today. They were to travel the two and three-fourths mile circular track 100 times for $12,000 in prizes.

It was arranged to send the cars away on a flying start, four abreast. Although this method gives a competitor's advantage to those in the first row, it was adopted to obviate possible delay.

Utter Rout of German Army Now Reported

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Nov. 25.—Official news received in Russian circles in London today declares that the rout of the German and Austrian forces in Poland has been complete. The general staff, however, is not yet able to give any details of this fighting.

Decisive Russian Victory Reported

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Nov. 26.—"It is now clear that the Russian victory in Poland is decisive," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Express. "The number of prisoners taken by the Russians is estimated at 50,000. The Germans have begun a retreat along the entire front," the correspondent continues, "and in many places the fight is a disordered rout, marked by the abandonment of artillery maxims and transports. Berlin meanwhile is beginning to talk about repulsing Russian attacks, which is a subtle method of announcing that the German troops are on the defensive."

Russian Troops Assist Servians

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Nov. 26.—The correspondent of the Times at Sofia, Bulgaria, reports that Russian troops have arrived in Servia to assist the Servians in fighting the Austrians.

"Fifteen regiments of Russian troops with seventy large loads of ammunition and supplies have arrived at the Servian town of Radniczatz," the Times correspondent says. "They made a 300-mile trip up the Danube from Russian territory. They will be rushed to the front to assist the Servians."

Officials Are Indicted For Looting Bank

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 26.—Indictments charging the embezzlement of $145,000 from the First National Bank of Johnston City, Ill., were returned last night by a federal grand jury against O. A. Harker, Jr., cashier of the bank of H. J. West of Chicago.

Harker was arrested and released on $10,000 bond and warrant was issued for the arrest of Froelich and West.

The First National Bank of Johnston City closed August 18 and a receiver was appointed but subsequently the bank reopened.

Harker is a son of Prof. O. A. Harker, dean of the law department of the University of Illinois, who it is understood deposited $75,000 in cash and securities to cover his son's losses thereby enabling the bank to resume business.

The irregularities were discovered on August 18 when Charles E. Burton, National bank examiner found in the vaults only $4,000 in cash and securities whose face value was more than $100,000, but whose actual value he regarded as nothing.

These securities, according to federal officials, were deposited by West and Froelich who it is alleged repeatedly overdraw their checking accounts to the amount of several thousand dollars. Among the securities so sold was a mortgage for $100,000 on a Chicago parking plant, organized, it was said, for buying the beef trust.

Harker, it is said, also advanced $25,000 and Froelich $7,000 to finance a speculation scheme.

You Make Friends By Recommending a Reliable Kidney Remedy

Your representative called at my door yesterday morning to leave a sample of your noted Swamp-Root and I am certainly pleased to see anybody connected with the firm who makes a medicine which has done so much for me and my family. A few years ago I was suffering from a terrible pain in my back and when I was up around the house I had to walk with my body bent nearly double. If you had placed a thousand dollars above my head I could not straighten up to get it.

Hearing of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I sent to you for a sample bottle and from the effects of that small amount I was sure it would help me so I bought one bottle and it has cured me.

Shortly after that my husband who was a coal miner, was suffering from kidney trouble and could not work and I sent for some of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. He was in a terrible condition, but as the doctors had not given me any relief, I had more faith in Swamp-Root and it was well founded, for it did the work and after taking a few bottles he was completely cured.

I daily recommend the use of Swamp-Root to my friends and neighbors. Sincerely yours,

MRS. JOHN NORDQUEST,

AT WOODSIDE CHURCH.

Another large and most attentive audience greeted Rev. J. P. Kanuth of Hebron last night at Woodside. Rev. Kanuth preached on the subject "The First Sin." He will preach a Thanksgiving sermon at Woodside this evening. At the services last night, a movement was begun to organize a personal service league. Mr. Don L. Conard was elected president and many members, men and women were enrolled. On next Sunday, another delegation will be over from Columbus, some of whom will go out to Fairmount in the forenoon; others will remain at Woodside speaking during and after Sunday school. All will be present for a mass meeting at 2:30 and Mr. Mitchell the singer is expected. He will go to Fairmount in the morning but will be at Woodside for the other two meetings.

APPEAL MADE FOR PEOPLE NEEDING HELP

To the Editor of the Advocate.

Sir: In common with the rest of civilized humanity my feelings are deeply stirred by the devastation and desolation that have overtaken the people of Belgium, and I hope that Newark will do its full share in contributing to the relief of these victims of the cruel war now raging in Europe. But at the same time I can not refrain from making an appeal in behalf of some of our own inhabitants whose situation appeals to me in no uncertain language.

In the first place, my experience of two years as township trustee and of one year as clerk of the trustees convinces me that, whether we have flush times or hard times, high tariff or low tariff, Republican administration or Democratic administration, there is never enough work in the city during the winter season to go around; so there will be some cases of destitution among those willing to work as well as among the shiftless and improvident and intemperate. The very fact that it is possible for some people to amass wealth in greater or less measure involves the fact that others must lose out in the struggle for maintenance. This statement seems as clear to me as would be the statement that if one army wins a great victory in war, the opposing army must suffer a corresponding defeat. Hence I fear the Scripture will always be fulfilled which saith, "The poor ye have allways with you." Would that the latter clause of this Scripture might also be fulfilled, "Whosoever ye will ye may do them good."

It has long been my conviction, Mr. Editor, that our city of Newark needs some kind of organized charity; and at this Thanksgiving tide I would appeal to our churches to initiate such an enterprise. Would not such an organization be a very appropriate and beautiful "accompaniment" to the revival services now being held and are to be held during the winter in our various churches? I am not discounting the good work of our King's Daughters; but why should not Christian men as well as Christian women be more or less active in charity work? And why should not non-churchmen as well as churchmen give their help and interest to this cause in the name of our common humanity?

Particularly am I interested in the widowed mothers who are struggling day by day to support their little children and keep them from being sent to the Children's Home. Not that I have any fault to find with the management of this institution; but because it is an institution and not a family, and because the separation of a faithful mother from the children she has borne seems to me an unspeakable tragedy, which should never occur in our midst. Ever since I read the story of the slave woman Eliza crossing the Ohio river on cakes of ice in the night to save her child from being sold from her, I have had this sentiment in my heart. And well do I remember how we abolitionists used to ring the changes on the tying of children from their mothers' arms in our denunciation of the institution of slavery. And that is what we the people of Licking county have been doing for several years past in some cases necessarily and properly, but not so in all cases. I dare maintain.

Of the fifty or more inmates of our Children's Home only about half a dozen are orphans. I can not think it was the best thing for all these children to be separated from their parents, although I do not doubt it was best for some of them. Hence I would like to see some kind of organized sentiment and determination in our city to keep the faithful mother and her little children together for lack of support, and no little children should be deprived of such a mother. For I hold that all the advantages of the Children's Home can not be weighed against a

Do You Work Indoors? Then Your Liver is Tor- pid.

Ninety per cent of all indoor workers have torpid liver. They feel bad and the trouble usually torpid liver, which brings on constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Kidney Trouble, Backache, Sallow Complexion, Pimples and a list of other ills. If you have any of these ailments go to F. R. D. Hall and get a small quantity of evaporated mineral water in powder form and take two teaspoonfuls of this powder in a glass of water tomorrow before breakfast. You will be surprised how it will clean out your bowels and stimulate the liver to action. It will fix you up all over. This evaporated mineral water is prepared by a lately discovered process. It contains all the valuable medicinal ingredients found in the famous mineral springs of Carlsbad. Simply add pure water brings these famous mineral springs right into your home. Ask for Lax-Uric, which is the medicinal name.

faithful mother love and devotion. If I had little children and was compelled to surrender them into any human hands or to any human institution, I would say the Lord not to take me up to the realms of heavenly bliss, but to buy me, soul and body, in the depths of mid-ocean or one thousand feet under the ground. And if I were permitted to question all the mothers of Newark I would ask them something like this: If you were left with two or three or more little children to support over the washtub or by day's work, how near would you see them come to freezing and starvation before you would consent to surrender them? Wonder how many people who have automobiles or horses and carriages are in the habit of offering any of these overworked mothers a ride into God's open country. And how many are in the habit of visiting the widow and the fatherless and other victims of poverty and misfortune and offering them sympathy and friendly counsel according to the Scriptures.

Let no one think I would favor indiscriminate or excessive gifts of charity. On the contrary I believe that help should always be given with care and discrimination, and above all with intelligence and a sympathetic interest in those who need help, whether they are deemed as "worthy" as they ought to be or not. If charity is thus administered there is very little danger of its having any demoralizing effect. There is such a divine art as giving help in such a spirit and manner as to stimulate self-respect instead of weakening it.

I am not a socialist or a communist; but I have often wished that all rich and prosperous people could realize that the greater portion of their incomes is derived from other people's labor, and that the obligation of moral stewardship is one that they ought to recognize and strive to fulfill "to the best of their knowledge and belief." And I would gladly see this law of stewardship preached more fully and positively by both press and pulpit.

On account of my three year's service in the army I am drawing a pension of $300 a year without having to produce a dollar of it. I trust that claim that I earned all I am getting by raking my life and doing a soldier's duty during my term is well taken, but I should be very reluctant to place my service to the people in comparison with the service which every faithful mother is rendering who is putting forth her best efforts to feed and clothe the children she has borne and educate them as the law requires. For sweet charity's sake every such mother should be encouraged and helped—and SUSTAINED. Rather, she should be helped and sustained for the sake of perfect justice. And then there are mothers worse off than if they were widows—what should I say in their behalf?

If the distributors of the collection taken at Thanksgiving services today see fit to confer with me, I can give them a number of cases where help is greatly needed. The township trustees are always ready to do what they properly can to help the needy and unfortunate, but their fund is very limited, and they can not possibly render all the relief that will be needed during the winter. And the same may be said for The King's Daughters.

Men and women of Newark will you give any help to this appeal of mine? Will you "hear me for my cause?"

RED CROSS

SEALS WILL BE SOLD IN NEWARK DURING THE COMING HOLIDAY SEASON.

State Supervising Nurse Has Been In Newark Arranging Details of the Sale.

Miss Helena R. Stewart, state supervising nurse, from the State Board of Health at Columbus, was in Newark on Wednesday making arrangements for the annual sale in this city of the Red Cross seals during the holiday season. As has been the practice in the past the seals are placed in the hands of an agent, this year, Mr. Frank S. Neighbor, and then some organization undertakes their sale. Last year the City Federated Clubs sold them, and they could be secured at nearly every place of business in the city.

Miss Stewart on her visit here also tried to arouse interest in the securing of a public health nurse for the city of Newark. This nurse works under the direction of the local doctors and undertakes any sort of a case. She also visits the schools, inspects the children and if she finds any needing care she follows the case up by personal treatment. Usually the pay of this sort of a nurse is guaranteed by some club or organization or in many cases the city council appropriates an amount sufficient from the city funds. However, Miss Stewart was unable to receive any encouragement that Newark would have such a nurse, all refusing to take the responsibility involved.

Complain of Dogs.
Editor Advocate:—
Complaint has been made to the state veterinary department in Newark that certain dog owners in the vicinity of Bruno have been permitting their dogs to roam over the fields where cattle, sick with the foot and mouth disease, have been pastured and been killed and buried. These same dogs are frequently seen roaming over adjoining fields where no foot and mouth disease exists and the farmers are almost panic stricken over the danger of having the disease carried to their stock by these roaming dogs. The state veterinary advised the farmers to hand the names of these dog owners to the sheriff and let him take care of them. Any man so utterly indifferent to the rights of other people as to allow a worthless cur to run at large under such circumstances deserves no mercy, and if the sheriff takes the matter in hand these men will be handled without gloves.

Quick Action Needed.

Opportunity offers to establish in Newark a company for the manufacture of Blair motor trucks and those who are acquainted with the details of the proposition say emphatically that it is in their judgment a real opportunity.

The Blair truck has a splendid reputation. It has been tested for thirty months and has been found wanting in no particular. It is said to be the very best truck made. Just now the Blair has a chance to secure an order for 120 fifty passenger busses and other orders are in sight as detailed in yesterday's paper.

It is only a question of working capital and it is up to Newark to finance this company or lose it. If Blair trucks are not to be made in Newark they will be built elsewhere.

Up to date $34,000 of the required $100,000 capital has been subscribed. Sixty-four thousand dollars worth of stock remains to be sold. The matter must be decided quickly as the eastern order for 120 cars must have immediate attention.

People are not asked to subscribe for Blair stock because it will help the town to do so, though it will do that very thing, but they are invited to subscribe because those who are themselves putting their money into the company and are inviting others to join them believe that it is a good opportunity for a profitable investment. Those who bought the plant from the old company have no preference in the new organization. One man's dollar is just as big as that of any other person. The Blair proposition is worth consideration and emphasis should be put upon the fact that quick action must be taken if Newark is to build Blair motor trucks.

Buy a Mattress.

The section of the United States which is suffering to the greatest degree, as a result of the European war, is that in which cotton is produced, or particularly all of the United States south of the Mason and Dixon line. The great conflict between nations that up until this year had been customers for this staple, and millions of dollars came from the other side of the Atlantic to add to the prosperity and happiness of the Southern cotton planter.

The war has shut off almost completely the export of cotton, this vast market is now closed, with the inevitable result that the buying power of the South has been curtailed and in some instances destroyed.

The cotton planters do not want charity, "else would we give it," but they are only appealing for buyers for their cotton.

There have been many expedients to create an artificial demand for the commodity. The "buy a bale" campaign took thousands from the warehouses, bales have been given in some cities, at which the women's gowns were creations out of cotton.

Another suggestion comes from the Grand Rapids Furniture Record: "Why not buy a cotton mattress?" There are twenty million homes in the United States, in half of which a cotton mattress would be a useful and almost necessary article. The present low price puts them within the reach of all, and this would create a demand for one million bales of the raw material grown by our Southern neighbors.

It is a good suggestion.

It is a patriotic suggestion, and its adoption would have a two fold effect. Like mercy, it would bless "him that gives and him that takes." The new mattress would make for cleanliness and comfort to the purchaser, and add to the relief of a deplorable situation that confronts a large portion of the citizens of a common country.

It is a good idea to have seventeen different kinds of dessert on Thanksgiving day, even if you have to live on mush and milk for a week after.

There is a complaint that the legislatures are passing too many laws, but the lawyers do not seem to find much fault about it.

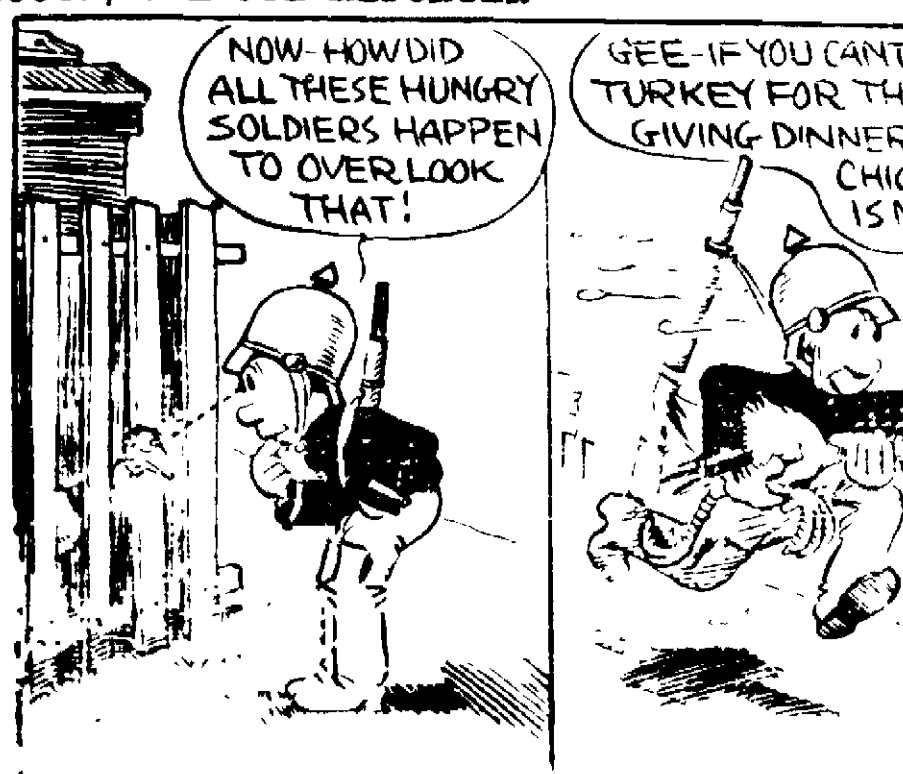

Most people join the "do Christmas shopping early" movement by saying that every one else certainly ought to do it.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissues, and leads to consumption.

If the Sarsaparilla is so successful in the treatment of catarrh that it is known as the best remedy for this disease. It purifies the blood. Ask your druggist for it.

COOP, THE CUB REPORTER

Record of Our Troops.

The United States closes its occupation of the port of Vera Cruz with a fine record. Where a large body of men are lying around idle, there must be a strong temptation to habits of vice. The easy going life of tropical cities would make such solicitations available. The enervating climate would provoke an appetite for stimulants.

Furthermore, there must be much that is irritating in the Mexican temperament, a compound of swag and insincerity. American soldiers would need much self-restraint to keep their hands off some of those insulting fellows.

Yet no complaint of excess in these directions has reached this country. Instead, the troops seem to have been popular in Vera Cruz. They at once took hold to improve sanitary conditions, and that city must have had the healthiest summer it ever enjoyed. There may be a good deal of inefficiency in the way our army is equipped, but in the spirit manifested by its officers and men, it is superb.

The dancing classes should have ticker service from New York, as the styles might change while a session is in progress.

More School Reform.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)
Mrs. Ella Flag Young, superintendent of the Chicago schools, advocates another school reform. Her conclusion, based on experience, is that the way the schools are run and have been run has been ordered on the untenable theory that all children are alike until a certain period. Nothing, she says, could be further from the facts. So she urges that the school courses be changed to fit the children instead of continuing to try unsuccessfully to make the children fit the school course.

About half the children in the Chicago schools leave school before they are through the elementary course. This, Mrs. Young believes, is because the schools have not interested the children, have not caught their attention or aroused their dormant energies. The restless type is that which mostly drops out and the schools lose them, she holds, because they give them nothing to do, some instruction that will attract their interest and hold it.

Mrs. Young appears to think that too much reliance is placed upon academic training, that a leaven of the industrial might help to hold the children who now quit the ranks. She would give boys and girls earl-chemistry and modern languages. Upon this, however, there will be controversy. But on the broader plan that the children should be studied more, their capacity and their tastes, that the ruling purpose should be to educate the child rather than merely run him or her through an educational machine, there can be no two minds.

Spirit of the Press

Humorist's Great Preachers.
"Bob" Burdette, dead at Pasadena, Cal., was not only a humorist but also a preacher. The conjunction of those two occupations seems a little strange at first. But when you come to think of it there never was a great humorist who was not also a great preacher. The great humorist preached other things than formal theology. But they preached none the less. Take Mark Twain, our greatest American humorist. He preached democracy. He thundered against mediaevalism as the church fathers thundered against heresies. There never was a greater hater of wrong, a more inveterate scorner of pretense, a gentler corrector of human foibles. He who has only found humor in Mark Twain has not found Mark Twain's humor. — Chicago Herald.

THANKSGIVING

I'm living in plenty, and Heaven I thank; I've eighteen or twenty round plunks in the bank; I've coal in the cellar, and taters heaped there; my wife, Isabella, has plenty to wear. No mortgages hateful are bothering me, and so I am grateful as mortal can be. But every such blessing is common, though grand; it's little distressing we know in this land, the kind angels guard us and see we have food, and soothe and reward us with all that is good. With calmness stupendous and nerve quite a few, we take what they send us, as though it were due. Our troubles are clanking—we've lots of them near; we'll do all our thanking one day in the year. Of grub we've a crateful, stored safely away; we'll show we are grateful on Thanksgiving Day. Our meadow land raises a harvest sublime; we'll put up our praises some day when we've time. We folks who are living in fatness and ease should spend our Thanksgiving this year on our knees; while whole nations are starving where war dogs are loose, while we are a-carving the turkey or goose. The paper—just skim it for news of the fray, if grateful, why limit our thanks to one day? (Copyright 1914 by G. M. Adams.)

RESULTS TELL.

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Newark.
Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Newark citizen can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had? J. R. Kellenberger, carpenter, 18 Western Ave., Newark, says: "I had kidney trouble and inflammation of the bladder for several years, which caused a lot of misery. In the winter months the kidney action was too free and I had to rise often in the night to pass the kidney secretions. My rest was broken. Some days while at work I was annoyed by the secretions and was made miserable by the pains across my loins, especially if I lifted. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Collins' Drug Store, did me a great deal of good. They regulated the passages of the kidney secretions and strengthened the back."

Can't you play something without one?' The only things I had at my finger's ends for violin alone were some Bach sonatas. This gave me an inspiration. VIOLINS

EQUAL TO THOSE OF THE OLD MASTERS, MADE RIGHT HERE IN NEWARK.

George S. Conway Constructed His First Fiddle Out of an Old Oyster Can.

Ever worthy of comment is the fact that generally the public is woefully ignorant of the wonders within its midst, and to illustrate this fact, a Newark woman who was in New York recently, visited one of the most completely equipped violin stores in that city to purchase an instrument. She was told that they had nothing especially fine at that time and said they were expecting a shipment from Newark soon. Wondering, she said she was from Newark, Ohio, and was then told that the best instruments to be purchased were made in her own home town and the lack of knowledge of the wonderful work done in the manufacture of the violin by Mr. George S. Conway of this city is general.

GEORGE S. CONWAY

lin from an old fashioned, square, tin oyster can. His father died in Knox county when he was but seven years old and left to drift mostly for himself, he worked for a family in Co-shocton county. One night a dance was given at the home where he was employed and to the amazement of the child, a queer looking wooden box with strings on it furnished the music for the dancers. This was his first acquaintance with the violin and so closely did he cling to the side of the fiddler and so many questions did he ask that the musician was hampered in his efforts to play for the dance and the little boy was hurriedly sent to bed. But still he dreamed of the "music box" and the next morning found an old oyster can and made himself a fiddle. Later he secured a cigar box and some strings and this second effort was a great improvement over the first one. So busily did he fiddle on the new instrument that the members of the family became greatly annoyed and his endeavors had to cease.

He did nothing more with it then until coming to Newark he visited Robert Dowling in 1892. Mr. Dowling manufactured violins and he became greatly interested in the young man and encouraged him to pursue his efforts in scientific violin construction.

Later he was engaged in the business for himself and at first tried to make instruments as directed by his patrons. This he found exceedingly difficult and very unsatisfactory until now he manufactures according to the ancient masters and many of his instruments are reproductions of the great instruments, supplanted with ideas of his own which he has found successful.

A bit regarding the manufacture will be of interest. The thing to be most carefully considered by the constructor is the selection of the wood. Mr. Conway has large shipments sent here on approval but finds it hard to secure what he wants. Maple and spruce from Europe are used and this is secured in the Tyrol mountain, in Turkey and Hungary. What are known as the plates, the front and back of the instrument, are then selected and matched, the perfection of the instrument depending upon the harmony of the vibrations of the wood. Each violin is a problem in itself and all depends on the pitch of the plate.

The next consideration is the air space between the plates, the latter having to be so placed that the air space is of a suitable size to harmonize with the tone pitch of the plate.

This work of harmonizing the vibrations depends entirely upon the ear of the maker, but by a simple method, the constructor can tell of the perfection of his work, by sprinkling a fine sand over the front plate of the instrument and if the vibrations are perfect the sand will form beautiful figures on the nodal lines.

Another factor of important consideration is the selection and application of the varnish. This is manufactured by Mr. Conway himself.

In the twenty years of his work Mr. Conway has constructed some truly wonderful instruments. His price generally ranges from $150 to $500, and several of the famous virtuosos on the violin have been deceived, selecting a violin manufactured by Mr. Conway, in preference to those of Theodore Heberlein, a famed European manufacturer, and other great maker.

Recently there came to Mr. Conway and incident which he says amply repaid him for his years of toil. He has an instrument, which he manufactured in copy of a Stradivarius and for which he had been offered large sums.

A few days ago, a purchaser, with Mr. Conway, held a test of the merits of several instruments. Several violins had been sent from New York and an instrument which sold for $5000 were competed against the one made by Mr. Conway. After the test, the performer and the purchaser enthusiastically agreed that the tone quality and beauty of the Conway instrument was far superior to any of the other instruments, and the latter made the maker a most generous offer for this wonderful instrument, which however Mr. Conway refused, preferring to keep the violin for probably a year yet, in order to still further, if possible perfect its timbre.

GEORGE W. MAXWELL
 well-known trapshooter

"I find relaxation and complete enjoyment in Tuxedo. It's a nerve stealer and a sure fire, slow burning tobacco. Easily my favorite."

TOM A. MARSHALL
 famous trapshooter

"Tuxedo tobacco is unquestionably the acme of perfection; smoking Tuxedo makes life better worth living."

FRED GILBERT
 the celebrated trapshooter

"The coolest, most fragrant, most pleasant tobacco in my experience—Tuxedo. Leads in mildness and purity."

For Gilbert

Quick on the Trigger With a Snap-Shot Eye

THE crack trapshooter has to be a man with steady nerves and muscles absolutely under control—always ready, at the sudden jerk of a string to swing his gun into place and bring down his clay pigeon. This means trained, not to the minute, but to the split-second. He takes no chances with his nerves.

We present the names of some of these crack shots who smoke Tuxedo. They like to smoke; but they take no chances on a tobacco that might "throw them off."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

is purposely made to give you all the benefits of the highest grade smoke. It is made from the very finest tobacco Kentucky grows—ripe, mellow, sweet and mild old Burley, aged right up to perfection-day. Then treated by the original "Tuxedo Process," which takes out the sting, makes Tuxedo smoke cool and slow, and guarantees that it cannot bite your tongue.

Tuxedo has had many imitators; none has ever equalled it in sheer quality and smoking-value.
